

Elizabeth Barr, Ph.D.

Social and Behavioral Scientist Administrator NIH Office of Research on Women's Health

Elizabeth Barr is a Social and Behavioral Scientist Administrator at the Office of Research on Women's Health (ORWH). Dr. Barr coordinates ORWH's efforts in interprofessional education, co-leads the Diverse Voices speaker series, and supports efforts related to gendered variables in health research. Her background is in community-centered research, HIV treatment, reproductive justice, and gender-based violence. Dr. Barr completed her Ph.D. in communication, with training in science and technology studies, at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and her M.S. in women's and gender studies at Towson University. Prior to joining ORWH in 2019, Dr. Barr led interdisciplinary and cross-sector projects to increase women's engagement in clinical research and served on the faculties of Towson University and the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

